OJIBWA CASINOS EXPANSIONS TO BE IMPLEMENTED

With Marquette being the largest population center in the U.P. and being the regional hub for retail, restaurants, education, health care, and outdoor recreation, it only makes sense to put the emphasis on expanding the Marquette Casino. "Business experts and financial lenders advised to develop where the greatest potential exists," President Warren C. Swartz, Jr. said in a recent letter from Tribal Council. Vice President Jennifer Misegan added, "We spoke to tribal entrepreneurs, and they really thought we should focus on Marquette. We took a look at what Marquette had to offer."

Governor Rick Snyder's refusal to cooperate with KBIC's dream to develop a major complex at their property in Negaunee (the old airport) helped Tribal Council to make the decision to revamp and expand the existing Marquette Casino where it is. "We're tired of him (Snyder) holding us back," Misegan said.

The 33.5-million dollar Marquette Project will include a 3-star 100 room hotel, 1200 seat entertainment complex, two restaurants (possibly branded), 400-seat conference facility, and the gaming floor will increase to accommodate 600 slot machines.

The Baraga Casino facility will be given a 6.5 million dollar facelift and will include a new structure for gaming being built onto the existing building which will improve ventilation. The existing area that is currently used for casino space will be renovated and remodeled for public access to the Pressbox Sports Bar and Grill, the restaurant, and other nonpublic areas.

finance the Marquette project. The Trust Fund held at Superior National Bank will be used as collateral to finance the Baraga Renovation. In regards to both projects, Council has emphasized that “the Senior Pension will not be used.”

Larry Denomie III, CEO for KBIC said, “Both projects will move forward at the same time with as much work that can be completed being done before winter and continuing in the spring. A completion date is expected of late 2017 or early 2018.”

KBIC Hold’s Employee Picnic

Government employees enjoyed a day away from the office to attend an Employee Picnic held on Friday, August 5, 2016. The event was held at the Tribe’s Sandpoint Campgrounds in Baraga, Michigan, and began with an early morning fishing tournament. Three-person teams hit the shores and the boats in an effort to win the grand prize, Team “Pittsley” achieved the victory. Other events were held including: bingo, bean bag toss, lawn Yahtzee, cribbage, kayaking, pontoon boat rides, and the evening hours brought on music by D.J. Steve Geroux. Employees were able to camp for two evenings, and a shuttle ran between the campground and the casino throughout the weekend. Employees had a chance of winning a number of great cash prizes which included up to $500 bonuses. An employee recognition was held (see separate article below) and a delicious meal was served by the Lucky 7’s.

Plans are underway for an enterprise employee picnic later in the month.

KEWEENAW BAY INDIAN COMMUNITY CONFIRMS DEATH OF TWO BEARTOWN FIREFIGHTERS

August 28, 2016, Baraga, MI. Late yesterday evening the KBIC learned of the tragic death of two of their firefighters in a catastrophic vehicle accident in Blaine, Minnesota. James F. Shelifoe, Jr. and Alan J. Swartz were killed, and the other passengers were injured. The firefighters were traveling to the Box Canyon fire in Utah.

Much of the details regarding the accident are still unknown, and we are working and cooperating with authorities to better understand what occurred.

We do know that the other passengers involved: Ross J. Jaukuri, Michael A. Johnson, Joseph A. Jossens, Gavin C. Loonsfoot, Shashaywin D. Sandman-Shelifoe, Tyler J. Tolonen, and David R. Varline are expected to recover. Unfortunately, their specific conditions are unavailable at this time.

There were eleven other firefighters en-route to the same fire. They were traveling in a convoy and had become separated for a brief time. Those firefighters are understandably shaken and are getting much needed support from local agencies.

Funeral arrangements for both James and Alan are incomplete at this time.

The Keweenaw Bay Indian Community is devastated, and our hearts go out to the families and those who are injured. There has been an outpouring of support, and we are very appreciative.

2016 Ann Misegan Memorial Scholarship Recipient Chosen

Picture by Lauri Denomie.

Annaleese Rasanen has been selected as the recipient of the Tribe’s Ann Misegan Memorial Scholarship. The Tribal Education Committee, along with a member of the Health Board, selected Rasanen to receive the scholarship.

Annaleese is the daughter of Julie Rasanen and Carl Rasanen of Baraga. She is a graduate of Baraga High School and will be a freshman at Ferris State University this fall majoring in Radiography/Sonography.

Ann Misegan was a long time Tribal Council member whose priority was the health of the Tribal membership. She was adamant that Tribal members be trained for as many positions as possible within the Tribe, and also encouraged members to seek further education, especially in health fields. She was a member of the Tribe’s Health Board and was the Dental Assistant at the Tribal Clinic for many years. She held an LPN certificate from Northern Michigan University and worked as a nurse for Baraga County Memorial Hospital before coming to work for the Tribe. This scholarship seeks to reward members who have the same passion for health care that Ann did.

This scholarship amount is $1,000 twice per year for up to six years and will be awarded to a new student each fall. Applicants must meet the following criteria: be an enrolled Tribal member, attend an accredited college/university as a full-time student, pursue a degree in a Health Care field documented by their college (preference will be given to students either in a nursing or dental program), and be a resident of Baraga or Marquette County. Applications for the 2017-18 academic year will be available in May 2017. For more information about this scholarship please contact Amy St. Arnold, KBIC Education Director, at 906-353-6623, ext. 4117.

KBIC Aquatic Invasive Species (AIS) Program Active and Expanding

by Karen Anderson and Gene Mensch

The KBIC-NRD Aquatic Invasive Species Program and Adopted Management Plan is now into a second year of implementation. This program relates to and compliments a robust and expanding Fisheries Program. Goals and objectives of the AIS Program include: Education/Outreach, inspection and sanitation efforts for various equipment that comes in contact with surface waters, improvements to decontamination methods, monitoring for early detection of AIS, implementation of a rapid response plan, and managing existing populations of AIS.

Aquatic Invasive Species are typically defined as species not native to a specific location (they're introduced into a system). Once established, they spread quickly and may cause a varied degree of biological, environmental, and economic harm. AIS tend to be prolific reproducers with highly aggressive behavior tendencies that can displace native species, and once established, they are difficult (if not impossible) to control/remove.

KBIC-NRD staff (Karen Anderson, Jacob Haapapuro, Patrick LaPointe, Gene Mensch, Peter Morin, and at times others) have been heavily involved in a wide, and growing, array of efforts aimed at dealing with AIS, as illustrated in the busy 2016 field season. Some of the work performed is highlighted here.

Sea Lamprey Control Work and Research Continues and Expands.

In collaboration with GLIFWC and USFWS Sea Lamprey control professionals, several survey and assessment efforts focused on various life stages of Lamprey have been conducted.

- Adult Sea Lamprey traps set on the Misery, Silver, and Ravine Rivers for 10 week durations provided evidence that all three systems are utilized by Lamprey for spawning habitat. Total captures were in the mid 30's - about half of last year's catch. This may, or may not, be reflective of overall population trends, as the heavy rains and resultant swollen rivers heavily affected trapping efficiency. Collected data are useful for multiple research and control reasons and were combined with adult trapping data from multiple rivers and agencies throughout the Lake Superior Basin for comparative analysis.

- Larval Stream and Nearshore Sea Lamprey surveys were conducted with KBIC-NRD staff assisting USFWS. Backpack electrofishing surveys were conducted on Little Carp Creek and Otter River. Staff also observed chemical larval lampricide applications at the Falls River outlet (granular bayluscide) for nearshore larval Lamprey abundance estimates there. KBIC staff were able to take the opportunity to test out KBIC electrofishing boat at this time as well, and the boat is running proficiently.

Photos: USFWS Sea Lamprey Survey Crews conduct "lentic" (still water) larval Lamprey population surveys off of the Falls Rivermouth. Close up of an "ammocetic" (larval) phase Sea Lamprey, which was burrowed in the sediment off the Falls River, waiting for optimal conditions and timing to undergo metamorphosis into the predacious adult Sea Lamprey most people associate with this species.

- Standardized Fisheries Surveys continue to track Sea Lamprey wounding rates on all fish species. As part of our long-term database utilized for Fishery Status and Trends Analyses, Sea Lamprey attacks are closely monitored and documented. Results of this work are shared with multiple agencies and the Great Lakes Fishery Commission to assist in gaining a more holistic and lake-wide perspective on Lamprey attack rates.

In 2016, based on initial review of data collected into August, wounding rates are hovering slightly above the acceptable threshold of five Lake Trout having Lamprey wounds for every 100 Lake Trout encountered. However, a more thorough analysis of data is needed before formal conclusions on our findings can be drawn. In the meantime, KBIC-NRD continues performing standard fisheries surveys to investigate Lamprey attack rates and other issues.

Middle (right) Lake Herring with a fresh and open Sea Lamprey wound. Lower image shows a White Sucker with a large and fresh Sea Lamprey wound. Sea Lamprey attack a variety of fish, as evidenced here.

New AIS Early Detection Surveys Conducted in Keweenaw and Huron Bays. (KBIC also assisted USFWS, MDNR in conducting same survey in the Portage Waterway, August 2016)

With around 100 documented exotic species in the Lake Superior Region (many of which are considered AIS) and several more species threatening to establish, agencies have developed and implemented a multifaceted survey protocol that includes a primary objective of detecting new species invasions as soon as possible. This early detection monitoring is done through a stratified random sampling design that has been developed by USFWS. Several entities are implementing this design in various areas of Lake Superior. Areas include: the St. Louis River system and Duluth Harbor area, Keweenaw Bay, Huron Bay, Portage Waterway, and Marquette Harbors. KBIC-NRD was a lead partner with USFWS in conducting this intensive survey. Survey Methods include gillnetting, trawling, electro-fishing, beach seining, and fyke netting.

Results of the intense Early Detection Surveys in Keweenaw and Huron Bays are preliminary, but the mid-July effort captured >6000 individual fish representing 35 different species. Of these, AIS detections included Eurasian Ruffe, Rainbow Smelt, and Three-Spine Stickleback. Other non-native fish that are not considered to be true AIS included Brown Trout, Rainbow Trout, and Splake.

KBIC-NRD is vested in continuing to implement this AIS Early Detection Protocol on and near the L'Anse Indian Reservation as the best means to stay "in front" of any new establishments of AIS here.

See following page for species that were detected in AIS surveys for Huron and Keweenaw Bays ("X" denotes present).

More than 6000 fish representing 35 species (28 species in Keweenaw Bay and 27 species in Huron Bay) were collected during AIS sampling of Keweenaw and Huron Bay.

Common Misconceptions about Domestic Violence

“It can’t be that bad”

- Even if the violence is “only” verbal, it can seriously affect the victim’s health and well-being — any act of violence is something to take seriously.
- Violence is never okay and may include physical abuse, sexual assault, and threats with weapons.
- Violence is RARELY a one-time thing, and usually it gets worse after the first time.

“They must be doing something to make him mad”

- The victim of violence is never to blame.
- A person chooses to use violence against someone else.
- Problems exist in any relationship, but the use of violence is never acceptable.

“If it’s so bad, why don’t they just leave?”

- For most people, ending a relationship is not easy.
- Emotional ties can be strong, and they hope that the violence will end.
- Maybe they don’t know that help is available to them.
- Leaving an abusive relationship is the most dangerous time in an abusive relationship.
- Perhaps their partner used violence to stop them from leaving.

“How can they still care for someone who abuses them?”

- Most likely, the abuser is not always abusive.
- Abusers often show remorse for the violence afterwards and try to make up for it.

- Violence is not a “personal problem,” it affects your entire community.

“I know the abusive person – I really don’t think they could hurt anyone.”

- Many abusers were not violent in past relationships, are charming in social situations, yet are extremely violent in private.

“The abusive person must be sick (mentally ill).”

- Using violence and abuse is a learned behavior, not a mental illness.
- People who use violence and abuse to control their partners choose such behavior.
- Viewing abusers as “sick” wrongly excuses them from taking responsibility their actions.

“I think the abusive person has a alcohol/drug problem. Could that be the cause of violence?”

- Alcohol/drug use can make violent behavior worse, but it does not cause violence or abuse.
- People who engage in abusive behavior often make excuses for their violence and claim they “lost control” or “can’t remember what really happened”.
- When someone abuses another person, it is not a “loss of control”, it is a way to “gain control” over them.

Teri Jendusa Nicolai is a true survivor. Her ex-husband tried to murder her back in 2004. Teri has been traveling the country speaking out against domestic violence and trying to help as many as she can. Teri was struck in the head 10 times with a baseball bat, stuffed in a garbage can, and placed in a storage locker where she was found 26 hours later. The doctors said she was less than an hour from death. Teri talks about the warning signs of this type of bullying that has the same action but also called domestic violence. 30% of homicides are due to domestic violence. Teri has been on Oprah, 20/20, The ID channel, The bio channel, plus many more. Let's help in trying to prevent this tragedy.

After 45 years providing health services and education to our community we have been re-branded as:

It's been 45 years since we started providing healthcare services to our community in July 16, 1971. At this time the Keweenaw Bay Indian Community was the first Tribe, nationally, to establish a tribally operated health center outside of Indian Health Services (IHS). This was accomplished with very little IHS resources. The KBIC recruited our own physician, established the first tribally operated dental clinic, and followed this by being the first Michigan tribe to prepare a proposal for hiring a community health nutritionist.

Celebrating National Health Center Week

The week of August 8-12, 2016 we celebrated our second year of participation in the over 30 year tradition of National Health Center Week. This national tradition gives health centers the opportunity to celebrate the services they provide to their communities and gain public support. The week kicked off on Monday with a blessing and smudging by Rodney Loonsfoot, Health Board Member, of our building, staff, and community members in attendance. Throughout the week, patients and community members voted on our kids' coloring contest, attended exercise demonstrations, a kids carnival, cooking demonstrations with taste testing, and visited informative booths set up throughout the building. Prize drawings were held, and participants received incentives to help them use the knowledge they gained. Community members and Health System staff enjoyed a full week of activity, education, and fun.

Thunder Bear's Journey

It was just under two years ago that I, Dr. Dave Kempainen (KBIC tribal member age 65), envisioned creating a large healing drum. Today, I have a 5-foot diameter drum that I call Thunder Bear. The frame is made of 36 Northern white cedar staves from a company in Duluth, MN; it is covered with buffalo rawhide. The rawhide is secured with 288 Japanese taiko tacks. It's a one-sided drum with a specially made drum cart. Thunder Bear has much artwork on both the outside and inside. I also made a beautiful red cover for the drum with the Anishinaabe Medicine Wheel on both sides. The drum's purpose is healing, helping, and educating about indigenous traditions and culture.

To date, Thunder Bear has been featured at Reno Earth Day 2016, the 40th Annual National Federation of Community Broadcasters conference in Denver; Thunder Thursday at Thunderbird Lodge, Lake Tahoe; and American Legends & Wild Horses. Our next outing is scheduled for Oktoberfest 2016 in Reno. Thunder Bear has been well-received, thus far, for its thunderous sound and vibration, and healing power. After their healing experience, some people are speechless, some actually break down into tears, and others talk about how the vibration stays with them for quite some time.

Basically, participants are asked to let go of all control and allow the drum to guide their inner spirit. While standing, sitting, or kneeling behind the drum opening, participants hold onto the drum frame and can either pray, meditate, or do whatever spiritually connects them with Thunder Bear. In the meanwhile, flute music is being played nearby while I drum on Thunder Bear in a manner that resembles rolling thunder. At the Thunderbird Lodge event, there was also the sound of waves crashing against huge rocks. It was at this event that I learned of Thunder Bear's healing potential.

I wanted to share my story with my people to let you know that I am doing something quite unique in the area of healing. Thunder Bear and I are on a very special journey that will positively impact people of numerous and varied ethnic backgrounds and cultures. Feel free to enjoy pictures and videos at our radio show page, "Seers from the First People Facebook," or Native Voice One home page (scroll down the right side and click on Seers from the First People, then the blue Facebook symbol). EAGLE NAMED NEW HEAD COACH FOR LADY BRONCOS

With overwhelming support, Joshua Eagle, KBIC Member and Bark River Harris (BRH) High School alumni, son of Janice Halverson and grandson of Janice Shalfoe and Pete Halverson, has been named the new girls' basketball coach at BRH. He spent the last four years coaching at Hannahville Soaring Eagle School. Coach Eagle symbolizes integrity, experience, passion, and the ability to lead his team to championships and help them become hard working, disciplined women of character. His passion for the game of basketball is evident in everything he does, and we could not be prouder of him. Summer Reading Program at the Library Comes to a Close

~ By Angela Badke, Librarian

This summer, the Ojibwa Community Library held its second Summer Reading Program. The theme was "On Your Mark, Get Set, READ!" and focused not only on reading, but also on healthy habits and activities that children can do to stay active. The events held at the library had a science component that included fun experiments that the children could also try at home. Additionally, the events had a story time and a craft or activity time that would connect to the theme of the day. There were also opportunities for cultural learning during these programs through either presenters, games and activities, or stories. We were very fortunate to have Shirley Brozzo from NMU's Center for Native American Studies join us for four of the events. Other presenters included Lisa Denomie and Stacey Somero from KBIC's Pre-Primary team, who worked with the children on a health and fitness theme, and Raistlin Awonhopay, who discussed regalia and dancing with the children. The program events came to a close on August 11th with an "End of Summer Reading Program Costume Party," where the children were able to meet Elsa and Anna from the Disney movie Frozen.

In total, the library had 64 registered participants for the Summer Reading Program Reading Challenge and events. Attendance for many of the events remained between five and 15 children; however, the final costume party had 40 children in attendance! The librarian is already working on new ideas for next year's Summer Reading Program.

Additionally, the Ojibwa Community Library has acquired several new books. Titles include The 5th Wave Series by Rick Yancey, The Race for Paris by Meg Waite Clayton, Smooth Operator by Stewart Woods, and The Martian (cdbook) by Andy Weir.

Don't forget to like and follow us on Facebook to stay up-to-date on news from the Ojibwa Community Library!

3rd Annual KBIC Youth Cultural Camp Held

The 2016 KBIC Youth summer season ended on August 12, 2016, with their 3rd Annual Culture Camp, held at Camp Nesbit located in the Ottawa National Forest, just south of Sidnaw, Michigan.

Waba Alakayak, Youth Director, said, "We have an eight-week camp every summer with many enrichment activities that the kids partake in. This year, we went on field trips, hikes, learned about the environment from the Baraga State Park staff, visited the library and participated in activities with the KBIC Library staff, visited Quincy mine, played on the beaches, participated in Ojibwa language dialect with Darrell Kingbird, enjoyed cultural activities with the KBIC Natural Resources Department, as well as had a full week devoted to S.T.E.M related learning with the DOD (Department of Defense). We also enjoyed a variety of other fitness activities with Ms. Sheila (Ekdahl) and other games that our youth enjoyed. The Culture Camp was started in 2014 and has continued every summer since. At our 2016 Culture Camp, the kids also enjoyed a myriad of outdoor and recreational activities including: canoe safety, fishing, swimming, archery, high and low ropes, hiking, language, along with arts and crafts. We had fires, stories, drumming, and games at night."

The KBIC Youth staff is very hard working and is dedicated to life-long learning for our kids as well as providing fun in a safe environment.

KBIC-NRD has identified 17 locations of Purple loosestrife that we continue to control and monitor yearly. Loosestrife can be devastating to wetlands and is spread by seed; each single plant can produce one million seeds.

Eurasian water milfoil is a submergent plant that can grow into thick masses. Currently we have identified two infestations located at the Sand Point tribal marina and a man-made pond on the property. We continue to survey the two sites yearly to monitor its abundance/spread.

- Boat Washing and Education/ Outreach Ongoing. Prevention is the best form of control for Aquatic Invasive Species.

Our high pressure/hot water unit is back in operation after some mechanical problems at the start of the field season. The boat washer was funded by the USFS and offers the broadest spectrum for decontamination in the prevention of AIS. Boat washer/Educator Jacob Haapapuro has been busy washing boats and educating the public on how to reduce the rate of spread of AIS. He has been to various Lake Access areas in Baraga, Houghton, and Keweenaw Counties, and various fishing tournaments and functions.

AIS public information outreach has continued throughout the year, with presentations given to all age groups (KBIC Youth groups, KBOCC, NMU college students, and various other groups.). At the 14th Annual KBIC Kids Fishing Derby, a booth was set-up, and an AIS education coloring book and other materials were distributed to kids. We even held a coloring contest with the educational books and brochures. AIS and Fisheries presentations were given by AIS Specialist K. Andersen at Lake Superior Day, at the KBIC Kids Culture camp held in Alberta, and various other functions.

For more information, feel free to contact KBIC-NRD at (906) 524-5757.

It is felt the KBIC-NRD AIS Program has become a critical component in addressing major resource management challenges, goals and objectives in a comprehensive way, and we are excited to be able to continue to contribute to Lake-Wide AIS detection, assessment, and control.

Be Informed

THE GOAL: Make sure everyone in your household can receive, understand, and act on information received in an emergency.

Getting correct information during an emergency is the key to taking safe action. Someone in your household may not be able to receive, understand, or act on emergency information. Think about what special needs your household may have. Take action now to make sure everyone in your family will be safe in an emergency.

CHOOSE ONE OF THE FOLLOWING THINGS TO DO THIS MONTH TO BECOME BETTER PREPARED:

- Make sure everyone in your family knows what to do when they hear emergency warnings.

Your community may have outdoor warning sirens (also called tornado sirens) to warn you in an emergency. These sirens are meant to let people who are outside know they should go indoors. When you hear the outdoor warning sirens sound in your area it is not safe for you to be outdoors. You should take cover inside a sturdy building and get more information from television, radio, internet, or by contacting a friend or family member.

Call your local fire department to find out if your area is covered by warning sirens, when they are tested, and when they would be activated. Make sure other members of your household know what to do when outdoor warning sirens sound.

Some communities have other ways of warning residents. They may call by phone, or send text messages or emails with emergency information. Check with your local emergency management or sheriff's office to find out what other warning systems are used in your area. Talk to family members about what to do when emergency information is given.

Get a NOAA Emergency Alert Radio.

Weather can change very quickly. Severe weather may strike when people are sleeping or unaware of the forecast. This can be deadly if people do not seek a safe shelter. A NOAA emergency alert radio (sometimes called a weather radio) can turn itself on when an emergency alert is issued and warn you at any time - day or night.

Emergency alert radios can also be used to warn about other emergencies, such as a chemical spill. With the Emergency Alert Radio, you will be warned about dangerous situations in time to take shelter or other safe action.

Every home should have an emergency alert radio, just the way all homes should have a smoke detector. They can be purchased at stores that sell electronics. Prices start at about $20.00. Most run on batteries or have battery back-up.

Make sure everyone in your household can communicate in a disaster.

The way emergency information is sent out in your community may not work for everyone. If you don't speak English well, or if you use an assistive device to speak or hear, make a plan now. Make sure you can get and give information in a disaster.

Communities may give information by television or radio, by automated phone call, text messages, email, or by sounding outdoor warning sirens. Police or fire may use loudspeakers to give information as they drive through the streets. Responders or volunteers may go door-to-door to talk to people directly.

If you think you may not be able to understand emergency information, identify someone (or more than one person) that you can contact for help in an emergency. Have more than one way to get in touch with them. Keep their contact information with you.

Emergency Information: Things to consider...

- Emergency news or weather broadcasts may not be close captioned.
- Information that is shown on screen may not be spoken aloud.
- Automated voices and voices over loud speakers may be hard to understand.
- Information comes quickly and the stress of a disaster may make it hard to understand or remember instructions.
- Words moving across the bottom of a television screen may move very quickly.
- The screen color or color of the text might make some information on television hard to read.

Great Lakes Indian Fish & Wildlife Commission Waatebagaa Changing Leaves Cultural Fall Camp October 15-16, 2016, Lac du Flambeau, WI

Hosted by: Lac du Flambeau Band of Lake Superior Indians

Through a grant made possible from First Nations Development Institute, Great Lakes Indian Fish and Wildlife Commission is excited to announce our first cultural fall camp program, Waatebagaa Changing Leaves Camp, to be held on the Lac du Flambeau Indian Reservation. To better represent the traditional year-round subsistence lifestyle indicative of the semi-nomadic Anishinaabe people. "Waatebagaa Gathering" aims to explore traditional autumn harvesting activities and cultural practices with tribal youth taught by regional tribal harvesters. This one and a half day intergenerational gathering will aid in preparing a new generation of tribal leaders to protect and preserve natural resources in the ceded territory and support the revitalization of Ojibwe/Anishinaabe culture and traditions through experiential learning activities based on the Medicine Wheel.

Tribal Youth will interact with harvesters and GLIFWC's Law Enforcement Officers in activities such as archery, air rifles, fleshing, brain tanning/smoking, trapping, fur ID, gillnet making, fish cleaning, fish smoking, blinds and deer stands, waterfowl cleaning, harvest prep, language, cultural crafting, team building, and leadership. All hands-on activities utilize traditional ecological knowledge.

This program seeks youth in ages 4-10; older youth may apply to serve as mentors. Participants will be spending one night in their tents at the LDF School Gym. The program will start on Saturday at 10 a.m. CST and conclude Sunday at 2:00 p.m. Please fill out an application to apply and submit early, as space is limited for this program.

For more information contact: Heather Bliss, Outreach Officer, Director of Waatebagaa. GLIFWC, (906) 458-3778, or e-mail, hnaigus@glifwc.org.
